Have your say on Hackney's proposed changes to the Council Tax Reduction Scheme

Hackney Council is consulting residents on proposals to revise the current Council Tax Reduction Scheme (CTRS). Please read this consultation summary to find out more about the proposed changes, and what this could mean for you.

What is the Council Tax Reduction Scheme?

The CTRS helps residents on low incomes to pay their Council Tax. Under the current scheme, a Hackney resident liable for Council Tax could get up to 100% of the charge paid through the scheme if they are a pensioner, or up to 85% of the charge paid if they are a working age household (i.e. the Council Tax Bill Payer is under pension credit age).

The amount of support a household can get through the scheme is determined through a 'means test' – this means we look at your total income and any money that you and your partner (if you have one) have as savings. We then compare it against a minimum allowance that you need to live on, depending on your circumstances.

At the moment, the Council Tax Reduction Scheme helps around 32,000 Hackney residents on a low income to pay their Council Tax.

Why are we reviewing the current Council Tax Reduction Scheme?

Hackney's Council Tax Reduction Scheme has remained unchanged since it was introduced in April 2013, and has now become out of date:

- a) Since Hackney's Council Tax Reduction Scheme was introduced, the government has changed some other national Welfare Benefits and, because of these changes, the Hackney scheme no longer aligns with other social security means tested benefits. This has made the current scheme unfair as it has become less beneficial for working households in comparison to non-working households. The scheme has also become inefficient to administer, and more complicated for residents to understand.
- b) The scheme has become too costly to administer in its current form. The cost of the scheme is predicted to rise by half a million pounds in 2018/19, with further increases in costs expected in 2019/20. This cost increase comes at a time when the Council faces significant financial and budgetary pressures due to reduced funding from central government.
- c) The current Council Tax Reduction scheme is not designed to interact with the government's Universal Credit Scheme. As Universal Credit coverage expands it is important that the scheme is adapted to fairly and equitably process Universal Credit awards as part of the household income.

For these reasons it is an appropriate time for the Council to review the arrangements and come up with a long term scheme that is affordable and fair to both Council Tax Payers and to those who also benefit from the support. It is intended that these changes take effect from 1 April 2018.

How do the proposed changes affect me?

If you are of working age and currently receive help through the Council Tax Reduction Scheme you will of course be directly affected. However, even if this is not the case, as a Council Tax payer you have a vested interest in ensuring the Council is spending the money it receives through both government funding and through Council Tax receipts appropriately. You may not always agree with the Council's spending choices, and it is important that the Council receives the views of all Hackney residents regardless of whether they receive Council Tax Reduction or not.

Additionally, the Council has to consult with its residents when it makes changes to some of its services, and the Council Tax Reduction Scheme is one of those services.

What is the Council's preferred option for amending the Council Tax Reduction Scheme?

Our preferred option is to:

- Update the cost of living parameters and other related cost comparators to bring them into line with the 2018 Council Tax Reduction Default Scheme.
- Introduce a means test to CTRS claimants in receipt of Universal Credit so they will receive the same entitlement as other non-Universal Credit claimants with the same income.
- Increase the minimum contribution which all working age CTRS claimants have to pay from 15% to 20% of their Council Tax liability, regardless of income and circumstance.

Why is this the Council's preferred option?

The first two parts of the proposed option are simply intended to bring the scheme up to date and ensure that it is able to deal appropriately with people receiving Universal Credit.

The third part of the proposal is in response to the ongoing cuts in government funding. The amount of money the Council gets from the government to fund the Council Tax Reduction Scheme has been reduced year on year since the scheme began. The Council has so far chosen to offset the cuts in funding by making savings in other areas. However, in light of the increasing financial pressures being brought to bear on the Council, we feel that we can no longer protect the scheme from amendment.

By increasing the minimum contribution of working age recipients to 20%, we will be able to reduce the costs of the scheme sufficiently to not only offset next year's cut in funding but also the cuts expected in the following year. This will give the scheme some financial stability and prevent a further reconsideration of the scheme being required before 2020.

Nationally, more than 4 out of 5 Councils ask their residents to make some minimum payment regardless of their income, and the average required contribution is 20% of the charge.

Why does the proposed change only affect Working Age households?

The Council is legally prevented from making any changes to the scheme that will reduce the level of support payable to a pensioner household.

What alternative changes to the current Council Tax Reduction Scheme were considered?

When considering how the costs of the scheme may be reduced, the Council considered other changes to the CTRS such as:

- Introducing minimum weekly awards;
- Reducing the maximum amount of savings a claimant can have before losing entitlement to £10,000
- Restricting support to a maximum Council Tax Band.

However all these options, individually or combined, do not generate the level of savings required and would only lead to the scheme being more complicated to administer, increasing the overall costs.

Summary of cost implications
	Estimated expenditure for this year	Estimated expenditure for 2018-19	Estimated expenditure for 2019-20
Current scheme	£25.5 million	£26.0 million	£26.5 million
Proposed new scheme	Not applicable	£24.7 million	£25.3 million

What other funding options have been looked at?

As the cost of administering the CTRS scheme falls on the Council, this would require the Council to find other ways of funding the shortfall, such as:

Increasing Council Tax

Raising Council Tax might seem like an easy option but the Council has to balance this against the impact on all Hackney residents. It should be noted that increasing Council Tax also increases the cost of the CTRS, and in effect we would have to increase the Council Tax charge even more in order to compensate. This would impact on all Hackney households, including pensioners, and in particular those working households whose income is low but not low enough to qualify for support.

It should also be remembered that Councils are restricted in the how much they can increase the Council Tax Charge. Therefore raising the charge to pay for the additional costs of the CTRS may mean that the Council could not raise funding for other areas such as social care, or would need to undertake a local referendum of all Council Tax Payers, which again adds to the costs.

Cut funding in other areas

Cuts in other areas would impact other budgets which are equally as stretched due to the reduction in support from the Government, potentially resulting in direct cuts to front line services. With another £29m in funding to be cut by 2019, protecting the current CTRS will mean there is less money available to deliver all the other services provided by the Council.

This will affect our poorest and most vulnerable residents more than most, as they need to access our front line services more often.

Increasing fees such as car park charges

Further increasing fees and charges would place additional costs on our residents and service users. They would also raise limited income, as too high fees would discourage individuals from using Council services.

Funding the shortfall from reserves

Use of reserves is only a short term solution, as once reserves are spent, the savings would still need to be found. Use of reserves would at best only allow us to postpone the decision, and not resolve it for an ongoing period. The Council is legally required to maintain a level of reserves in case of unforeseen service costs and emergencies. Many of the Council's reserves are already earmarked for important projects, which could not go ahead if the reserves were used for other purposes.

What will I be asked to pay?

Other help available to pay your Council Tax

There are other avenues of support to help you pay your Council Tax bill that are separate from the Council Tax Reduction Scheme.

The Council has in place a discretionary hardship scheme for those who have difficulty paying their Council Tax and cannot get any assistance through the CTRS, or the assistance received still does not fully cover their bill. Additional help can be given to households that are vulnerable and/or under particular stress. Each application is considered on its individual merits and will be based on your Council Tax bill after any discounts, exemptions, reductions for disabilities or support have been deducted.

In addition, the Council will be providing extra help to Hackney's Care Leavers - young people aged 18 plus who have been looked after by Hackney Council for a certain amount of time.

From October, Care Leavers will get an additional discount to their Council Tax and will receive a blank bill, provided:

- They are under the age of 25
- They live in the London Borough of Hackney
- They have claimed all the Council Tax discounts and support to which they are entitled, such as a single person discount, student exemption or assistance from the Council Tax Reduction Scheme
