About us

Bar Lotus plants its seed deep within the heart of northeast London, nestled within the charming enclave of Dalston. A decade ago, Dalston was the epitome of cutting-edge fashion. Now, it serves as a thriving hub for myriad young, dynamic souls, cocooned amidst wine bars and fashion studios, where creativity and culture proliferate unabated.

Bar Lotus, with its unique blend of aesthetics and diversity, aspires to integrate seamlessly into this vibrant community. Lotus London skillfully deconstructs and reconstructs essential elements of its East Asian heritage, presenting them with an unprecedented and vivid flair. However, our touch is delicate, ensuring the blend within the existing community feels organic, almost preordained.

Our mission is to transmute abstract aesthetics into tangible forms - visual designs, auditory experiences, palatable drinks, and exemplary service. We aim to serve a holistic package designed to tantalize all the senses of our esteemed guests.
