All indoor licensable areas
Please describe the nature of the premises below. (Please read note 4)
Interactive Art Gallery playing host to a magical, Christmas themed experience.
Please describe the nature of the event below. (Please read note 5)
A ticketed entry event and a seated, interactive art exhibition experience themed around christmas, magic and fantasy. Bar on site also for passing trade limited to table service only. The time restricted experience centres around the theme of potion making with limited Alcohol as an option. With the exception of a Christmas theme and the acceptance of passing trade for the bar (limited to table service only) The experience in question is run very regularly within the premises in accordance with its existing premises licence - meaning that from a public standpoint, no additional attention or opportunity to infringe on any licensing objectives is even perceptible. This coupled with the venue's history of responsible operation, family friendly offering and TEN's that have run in many previous years with exactly the same format as this one (to quiet success) means that it is reasonable to conclude that the event is a very low-risk, tried and tested event. As a result, it is not believed that SIA licensed individuals are required, however, should the authorities evidence that the risk is higher, we would look to have a conversation and address any concerns appropriately and proportionately inclusive of SIA. The reason for the TEN to take place is so that the exhibit may benefit from increased operating hours during its more commercially successful winter months. All staff and responsible licensed individuals have been briefed on the specifications of the TEN and the venue and responsible persons are happy to work as closely as necessary with the licensing authorities to ensure a smooth and successful event. This Ten has been updated from previous submissions that incorrectly cited halloween themed celebrations.
